DEVELOPMENT BY U. P. LISTED

Utah and Idaho Figure in Improvements Made By Railroad Company

Traffic, freight and passenger development of the Union Pacific system during 1922 is shown in a circular issued yesterday from the department of traffic at Omaha, Neb. "The Union Pacific system," the report states, "during the year 1922 has kept pace with the growing transportation needs of the territory served by it, at an expenditure of $34,814,316."

"It has added to its equipment, constructed new lines, station buildings, terminals, double-tracking, shop and store department facilities, reconstruction of telegraph lines and all work necessary to its requirements."

In addition, the Pacific Fruit Express company, jointly owned by Union Pacific and Southern Pacific companies, have purchased new equipment and constructed icing facilities at a total expense of $9,527,120."

In Utah the report shows that a new branch line is being constructed from Delta to Fillmore, 31.40 miles, at a cost of $68,065. This line will provide an outlet for the agricultural products and livestock raised in the valley in which Fillmore is located.

Second track has been laid from LeRoy, Wyoming, to Wahsatch, Utah, a distance of 27.43 miles, at a cost of $4,943,988. A second track from King Hill to Hammett, Idaho, will soon be under way and will cost $1,620,500. An extension has been made from a point near Homedale, Idaho, to Erb, costing $227,600.

Construction of a new two-story combination depot and freight room at Fruitland, Idaho, has been begun. This will cost $28,175. Construction work for the Pacific Fruit Express is progressing at Pocatello and Nampa, Idaho.

MILTON JOSEPH FOUND GUILTY

Salt Lake Broker Convicted By Jury of Grand Larceny Charge

SALT LAKE, Dec. 16.—Milton D. Joseph, charged with the theft of $54,000 in Utah Copper stock certificates from the Continental National Bank, was found guilty by the jury of grand larceny by trick and artifice.

Conviction on a charge of grand larceny by trick and artifice calls for a sentence of not less than one year and not more than ten years.

Mr. Rogers for the prosecution and Thomas Ramage for the defense concluded their arguments yesterday afternoon. Mr. Ramage asserted that his client could not be convicted of a criminal charge, contending that the $54,000 taken by Joseph was in the nature of a debt and therefore a subject for a civil suit. Judge Hanson summed up this morning and the jury retired, being about for 50 minutes, in which it was reported that four ballots were taken.

Joseph was removed as the verdict was rendered. He was remanded to the custody of the sheriff. It is understood that sentence will be passed next Saturday.

As he was led away by Deputy Sheriff Henry Emery he made no comment. In contrast to when he was originally arraigned here when he was greeted by old friends there was apparent no one present of his circle of acquaintances this morning.

The history of the case concerns the fact that in 1914 Joseph prevailed upon the bank to allow him to have certain Utah Copper stock. He is said to have remarked that as soon as he sold the stock he would return the proceeds to the bank. Instead of so doing, he sold the securities and vanished, defrauding the bank out of about $54,000.

Joseph's disappearance was a matter of general discussion for a considerable time with information being received from time to time that the man had been seen in different cities. Gradually these reports died and it seemed as if the affair was to be relegated to the archives of unsolved crimes, or rather failure to punish the criminal, when about a year ago a prominent citizen recognized Joseph at Miami, Fla.

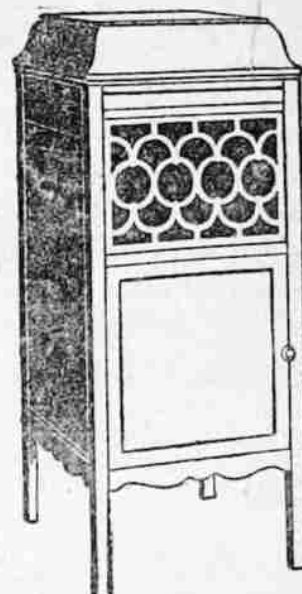

Then began the law's machinery to bring Joseph back here for trial. When arrested he stoutly denied that he was Joseph and openly declared that he was J. D. Myers, a real estate broker. He fought extradition back to Utah practically to the last ditch, but eventually realizing the hopelessness of the situation he abandoned further battle brought back. It was not until he reached Salt Lake that he was Joseph.

At the time he was arrested he was serving as an officer in the States service during the war. He had many friends in the city who assisted him in his fight against extradition. When he was extradited he was held eight years ago he is who still resides in Salt Lake in understood that a motion made for a new trial or taken to the supreme court.

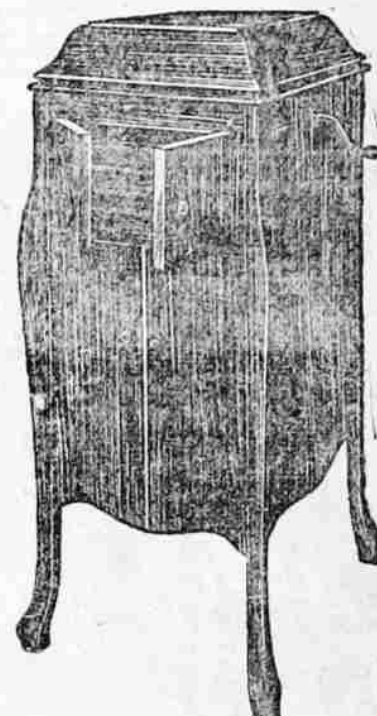

FUNERALS

Funeral services for A. Baggs will be held Tuesday at 2 o'clock in the Thirtieth chapel. Bishop J. H. Jones will conduct the service. The body will be viewed at the home, 2212 avenue, tomorrow and Tuesday at 1 o'clock. Interment will be in the city cemetery.
